

BELOIT ANTI-HORSE THIEF SOCIETY MET

Members Held Their Annual Meeting
And Election of Officers, in Be-loft, Last Evening.

(Special to the Gazette.)
Beloit, Wis., Dec. 2.—The Beloit Anti-Horse Thief association, which includes many Beloit citizens and farmers in the outlying districts, held its annual business meeting last evening. Besides the regular routine of business, an election of officers was held and the following were chosen: President, R. M. Turner; 1st vice president, Dr. Isaac Buckridge; 2nd vice president, John Cliff; 3rd vice president, George Haynos; secretary and treasurer, George B. Morrill. The following were chosen on the advisory board: George H. Cram, chairman, W. H. Quinn, Harry Adams, C. T. Smith, John Houston, L. J. Rogers. Police officers were also chosen.
The banquet which was given to the members of the Y. M. C. A. who took part in the minstrel show given by the association on November 6th and 7th, was held in the gymnasium of the association last evening. There were about thirty people present. The banquet was one of the most successful social affairs of the year, to be given in the Y. M. C. A. John Hann, secretary of the association, acted as the toastmaster of the evening. Toasts were responded to by several of the members of the association. The Y. M. C. A. orchestra furnished music throughout the entire evening.

MRS. LUCY WARE (WIDD) HAYES, WIFE OF PRESIDENT HAYES AND MISTRESS OF THE WHITE HOUSE FROM 1877-1881.

With the entrance of President Hayes and his wife a distinct change in the order of things made itself felt. Mrs. Hayes might be called the first new woman to become mistress of the White house. She worked with and for her husband, was his counselor and friend and though she did not openly interfere in politics, no president's wife had ever exercised such power over public affairs. Long official and social experience, added to great natural intelligence, had prepared her for her position. She

TOO MUCH REFORM

When "telegraphers" throughout the country, united in an effort to establish a "four-hour day" for all operators, they succeeded in uniting sympathy and congress was induced to pass the law which gave them the short work-day.

As the law applied to all operators, it took in an army of railroad agents at small stations, and while they spent but little time at the keyboard, they were not permitted to remain on duty more than 9 hours.

This meant hardship to the railroads, as they were obliged to increase the force of operators by putting on 8,000 new men, or find a substitute. Then it was that the American Railway association took the matter in hand, and in spite of protests from union organizations, commenced the installation of a long distance telephone system, which promises to revolutionize the telegraph service so far as railroad business is concerned.

For example, four railroads leading out of Chicago installed within a short space of time a total of nearly 3,000 miles of telephone on their main lines and began using them for the operation of trains. On one road the substitution of the phone did away with the necessity of nearly seventy telegraph operators. These men were not, however, discharged from the service, because the operation of the new nine-hour law governing the hours of labor of operators created a great demand for key experts. They were moved to telegraph points, where their telegrapher's ability could be utilized.

It was the passage of this law, by the way, which accelerated by many years the movement toward the use of the phone. The telegraphers forced congress to limit their continuous hours of labor to nine hours a day and as a result the railroads were compelled to find nearly 8,000 additional operators within a few months. It was well nigh impossible to get them, as the rules of the telegraphers' union do not permit of student telegraphers. The operation of the law is costing the American railways an additional $10,000,000 annually, without bringing any return in efficiency. It was not strange, therefore, that the association, which is the most powerful and conservative railway organization in the United States should pass the following resolutions:

"Whereas, the extended use of the telephone as a substitute for the telegraph has demonstrated that it can be safely used for train operation; and

"Whereas, the substitution of the telephone for the telegraph in blocking and dispatching trains has developed many advantages in favor of the telephone in saving in time of the various operations; and with the same degree of safety as has been done heretofore by the telegraph, now, therefore, be it

Resolved, that in the opinion of the American Railway association the substitution of the telephone for the telegraph in blocking and dispatching trains can be made safely, and the use of the telephone for such purposes is recognized and recommended as a standard operating instrumentality."

As a matter of fact the change from the telegraph to the phone is progressing more rapidly than the public realizes, for there is scarcely a large system anywhere which is not now employing the phone on some portion of its line, either for dispatching or "blocking," or both, or which is not preparing to install some phone service or extend that which it already has. The committee which brought about this action of the association was made up of the most prominent operating men in the country.

GOLF SAVED HIM

A New York pastor received a call in his study, one morning not long ago from a man with whom he had a pleasant, but not intimate, acquaintance. And the visitor told him, without much ado, that he had called on a peculiar errand.

"Some time ago," he said, "as you know, I lost my wife. I have no children, I have no near kinpeople, and I am very lonely in the world. Last week, by an unlucky speculation, I lost my whole fortune. I am, therefore, without companionship, without an occupation, without money."

"I am too old to start again," and I have no joy in life as it is. I have deliberately decided, therefore, to commit suicide. And I called to tell you of my purpose, and to ask the favor of you that when my body is found you will make such an explanation as your good judgment and kindly feeling toward me may suggest."

"I have come simply to ask this favor, and not to argue the question, which I have settled for myself. If you do me this last service, I shall be very grateful."

"The preacher said little, and was far too wise to undertake to dissuade him; but he permitted the man to say all that he had to say without interruption."

"Then, as he was going away, the preacher called to him and said: 'I have not seen you on the golf links for some time. You used to enjoy the game.'"

"Yes," said the other. "Well, go out and play one more game today before you carry out your purpose."

"The man smiled for the first time, and went to the golf course and he is living yet."

This little incident is related in the December number of "World's Work," and suggests the thought that many men who are committing suicide by easy stages, might prolong life by enrolling their names as members of a golf club, and taking an afternoon off, now and then, to stroll over the course.

The best health promoter and dyspeptic-dissipator is outdoor air and exercise, and golf is the only game that has no age limit. The man who thinks he is old enough to give up this game of life, may not be able to beat the man in the prime of life, but he can have just as much pleasure in the companionship of a genial comrade, whose only ambition is to beat his own record.

It is an old saying that "nothing succeeds like success," and equally true is the statement that the best way to live is to keep on living. The man who settles down to enjoy poor health, may have a good time, but it's a little tough on his friends. Better to forget the health and find the enjoyment in wholesome outdoor life.

CORNSTALK PAPER

The government forest service and bureau of plant industry have been making experiments to find a substitute for wood-pulp in paper-making. The experiments are paid for by an appropriation made by the last congress. Dr. H. S. Bristol, the government chemist, who has been conducting the experiments, has already demonstrated that good paper can be made from cornstalks.

"Dr. Bristol and his associates are not yet ready to say that paper can be made from cornstalks cheaper than from wood, and, of course, the new paper will not be a commercial product until it can be marketed as cheaply as the wood-pulp paper. But the continuation of the experiment shows that the government scientists hope to make the process cheap. Meanwhile a private company has been organized to make paper from cornstalks and from waste sugar-cane, or bagasse, with an expectation of commercial success."

"At the same time, United States Comptroller Richard Gunther reports from Germany that a sugar-planter in the island of Trinidad has built a mill and makes paper from sugar-cane stalks. The mill cost $85,000, and the planter claims that it has made paper worth $24 a ton, by a process so inexpensive that it will now pay to grow cane for paper alone and make sugar as a by-product."

"This effort is not new. Experiments with cornstalk pulp have been made for some years past, and many prominent makers and users of paper do not believe they can succeed."

This item from an exchange is of peculiar interest to Wisconsin people, as Mr. Gunther is an old resident of the state. It is possible to make paper from sugar cane stalks in Germany, and use the sugar as a by-product, the same thing can be done in this country, and it would mean much to many of the southern states.

Of more interest, however, are the experiments being made by the government with cornstalks. Should they prove successful it will settle for all time the question of raw material for paper.

One Place, Anyhow.

Two men from New York awoke one morning to find themselves in Savannah. Remembering that they were in a prohibition state, and having a thirst worthy of their surroundings, the pair started out on a still hunt for an eye-opener.

They were not acquainted and were in a quandry as to where to start on their quest, and while they were debating the question mentally between them they were approached by a pleasant-looking policeman, who wished them "good morning."

"Say Jim," said one of the pilgrims to the other, "this is an opening. Here's a good fellow; let's ask him."

It was agreed, and the officer answered their inquiry by saying laconically, "Follow me."

He walked them through three blocks until they stood in front of the cathedral. Here he paused.

The travelers looked at each other in astonishment.

"Surely, my good man," said the first, "you do not mean to tell us that a blind tiger is being operated in church?"

"You see the church, do you?" asked the policeman solemnly.

"Yes," assented the two.

"Well, that is the only place in Savannah that you can't get it," said he.—Bohemian.

COOKING FOR THRASHERS.

Ever help thrash?

The farmers' wives mill at the task of feeding the thrasher man and his helpers all the day long. And now at last in one of the counties of a middle western state the farmers' wives have struck. They refuse to cook three big meals a day.

Good!

The thrasher men, joining issue, have boycotted the county. They declare for three full banquets a day, also the farmers' wheat, they say, may rot. And there you are.

Now—

The farmer's wife, if she conforms to the old custom, must begin weeks ahead of time to plan for the feeds. The bounteous menu must include all the substantial and all the delicacies of cookery. Perhaps a beef is killed. Dozens of chickens are slaughtered. There must be six kinds of pie and other things in proportion.

And all day long the wife must stew over the hot range excepting when she washes dishes.

Through it all the man with the red machine is monarch of all he surveys. He tells the household what time it must arise in the morning. In the evening no man darest knock off until he gives the signal. Let the cook wait and keep the supper piping hot.

People, and premises—farm, barn, house, help, cook, even the dog—are subject-slave to the masterful man with the "separator." And, it may be added, much authority has found him as dictatorial as much good feeding has made him critical of cuisine.

Therefore the long meditated revolt of the independent women of the farm—and to them all hail!

Let the presumptuous thrasher man modify his voracious demands or put up with a cold luncheon.

What with his common tasks of cooking, mending, washing, butter-making and the other thousand and one errands of the farm wife, she has enough to do, without asking her to boil her brains over a hot cook stove to feed a small army.

They do it differently in the far west.

There the thrasher gang carries a cooking outfit, and the squad cook prepares the meals. No extra demand is made of the rancher's wife. Instead of tolling in her kitchen—listen—the farmer's wife is often a guest at the thrasher's table. It is quite a picnic.

Never was there juster grievance than that of these striking farm wives.

MILLIONS OF LIVES LOST

The "Awful" Toll Collected by Consumption.

If the people only understood that Catarrh is an internal scourge—that nothing applied externally does much good—they would not need to be warned so often about this fatal disease, which, when neglected, invariably ends up in consumption, at the cost of millions of lives every year. Yet Catarrh is easily cured if the right treatment is employed.

Catarrh is caused by germs in the blood which circulate throughout the entire system. External remedies give but temporary ease. Although the effects are often seen in the form of pimples, rash, eczema or dry scaly skin, the trouble is internal, and can never be cured by external remedies.

The only way to cure Catarrh is by employing a medicine which is absorbed and carried by the blood to all parts of the system, so that the mucous membrane or internal lining of the body is thoroughly medicated, soothed, disinfected of germ matter, and the soreness healed.

We have a remedy prepared from the prescription of a physician who for thirty years studied and made Catarrh a specialty and whose record of success was a cure in every case where his treatment was followed as prescribed. That remedy is Kexall Mucin-Tone. We are so positive that it will cure Catarrh in all its various forms, whether acute or chronic, that we promise to return every penny paid us for the medicine in every case where it fails to cure or for any reason does not satisfy the user.

We want you to try Kexall Mucin-Tone on our recommendation and guarantee. We are rich here where you live, and you do not contract any obligation or risk when you try Kexall Mucin-Tone on our guarantee. We have Kexall Mucin-Tone in two sizes. The prices are 50c and $1. Very often the 50c size effects a cure. Of course in chronic cases a longer treatment is necessary. The average in such instances is three $1.00 bottles. The Smith Drug Co., Janesville, Wis.

9-10 Of The Pain In Dentistry Is Unnecessary

There is always the great fear of pain that keeps people from having their teeth attended to—and still the longer they put it off, the more pain and expense they will be caused.

Around the tooth on all sides, there are nerves, and these I treat with a harmless application which deadens the pain for a period of 15 minutes. I have used this method for about 35 years, and know that 9-10 of the pain is not felt.

If you have been "going" to have your teeth fixed, call the very next time you go by, and let me tell you more about my methods.

GRAVE PROBLEM FOR SEWER MEN

MUST EXCAVATE 10 1/2 FT. TRENCH
UNDER RAILWAY ARCH.

THAT SPANS WESTERN AVE.

And the Concrete Foundations of Which Are Laid Only 8 1/2 Feet
Below the Surface—Progress of $45,000 Contract.

Construction work on the $45,000 main sewer outlet is now proceeding at the rate of about 45 feet a day, according to City Inspector George T. Croft, who was a visitor at the city hall this morning. The big pipe line is nearing the C. & N. W. Ry. Co.'s arch on Western avenue, located about 275 feet east of the South Pearl street corner and near the point where South Terrace street would intersect if continued. The engine-room is already under the arch and the excavation work will commence there either Friday or Saturday morning.

Rather Serious Problem
It is said that the concrete foundations of this arch are only 8 1/2 feet deep, while the sewer trench has to go down 15 1/2 feet. There will, therefore, be an element of danger in the work in that quarter and the People's Construction Co. management will breathe easier when the subject is safely passed. For it is perfectly apparent that the eastern walls of a six-foot trench, bisecting the base of a 30-foot archway below the depth of the foundations and only 12 feet distant on either side, will exert an enormous pressure on the walls and the timbers in place. The proposition would be simple enough if it were not for the water and quicksand encountered at that depth. The archway is located on the site of an old mill, once spanned by a trestle. It would be impossible to drive piles there, even if a pile-driver were available, on account of the overhanging masonry, and every possible precaution will have to be taken to keep the double rows of sheeting water-tight. A collapse of the sewer walls and the foundations of this great vault would precipitate a catastrophe too terrible to be imagined. The C. & N. W. Ry. archway, which was placed some time ago, offered no such difficulties as the foundations there are 15 feet below the surface.

Thawing Out the Surface
The freeze-up, after the long spell of mild weather, caught the crew unawares and 20 men had to go to work with pickaxes the next morning. Three 90-foot pans, filled with manure and charged with steam, are now being used to thaw out the upper crust and the progress is somewhat slower on this account as well as the depth of the excavations. The pipe-layers have now caught up with the diggers. The trench is now running diagonally the stretch water main which was moved out from its original position at the time the arch was built. At Chatham street, the water pipe turned and crossed the thoroughfare on its route to the wooden mill directly in the path of the sewer and had to be lowered three feet. There will, apparently, be no further difficulties of this kind to contend with. Some of the sheeting was undermined and gave way during the heavy rain-storm a few days ago and there was a wholesale sliding excursion to recover the jacks and braces. About 35 men are at work and some 3,000 feet of the sewer have been completed. The pipe which will be needed has all been ordered and no more is being made. As an evidence of the good quality of the pipe, Inspector Croft says that when it is necessary to chisel apertures for the man-holes it is found that a good-sized stone or pebble is held so fast in its socket that it invariably breaks instead of being dislodged from its moorings.

FELLOWSHIP CLUB'S ENJOYABLE EVENING

Men of Congregational Church Heard
Interesting Talk From Prof.
Hutton.

The Men's Fellowship club of the Congregational church enjoyed a fine talk by Prof. Hutton of Waukesha on "The Boy," last evening. He spoke of the fact that society often denies boys their rights and that this is the main cause of child criminality. Among the rights of children Mr. Hutton mentioned the right to be well born, to have a happy childhood, to have a good example from older people, especially from father and mother, and to be controlled by some one older and wiser than themselves. After the formal talk Mr. Hutton answered questions relating about the work for boys in the state school at Waukesha, of which he is principal. Refreshments were served later in the evening by a group of ladies.

ELECTION EXPENSES ARE BEING FILED

Candidates at November Election File Accounts With Register of Deeds.

Most of the candidates at the recent general election held in November have already filed their election expenses with the register of deeds. Of the candidates who filed their expenses in Rock county, H. A. Neesham, candidate for congress, spent the most, his total reaching $170.20. The others range from $75 down.

Following is a list of those filed so far and the office for which they were candidates: B. I. Jeffrey, county treasurer, none; W. K. Taylor, register of deeds, none; A. E. Rader, register of deeds, none; J. L. Fisher, county treasurer, $25; J. L. Fisher, district attorney, $35.50; L. C. Whitcomb, assembly, 1st dist., $43.00; O. P. Murell, county treasurer, $12; H. G. Shubert, sheriff, $75; H. J. Hennrich, assembly, 3rd dist., none; J. B. Clark, district attorney, $33.35; Simon Smith, assembly, 3rd dist., $50; Matt L. Lathers, assembly, 3rd dist., $18; Jesse Earle, clerk of court, $50; C. H. Wolrick, register of deeds, $50; J. M. Whitehead, $50; L. W. Lee, county clerk, $50; L. E. Gottlieb, his expenses for campaigning before the primary in September at $113.70.

In spite of the uncertainty of the primary election law as to whether election expenses must be filed after the primary election and also after the election itself most of the candidates filed expense accounts for both.

NEW OFFICERS OF THE RELIEF CORPS

Were Elected at the Annual Meeting Yesterday—Delegates Named to the Next State Convention.

Members of the W. H. Sargent Women's Relief Corps No. 21 held their annual meeting and election of officers yesterday and named delegates to the state convention which will be held in Eau Claire next June. The new officers are: President, Mrs. Carrie A. Glenn; Senior Vice Pres., Mrs. Anna Morset; Junior Vice Pres., Mrs. Florence Watson; Treasurer, Mrs. Miss Orle Smith; Chaplain, Mrs. Ida Lathrop; Conductor, Mrs. Ida Tochtormann; Guard, Mrs. Anna Parish; First delegate, Mrs. Florence Watson; Second delegate, Mrs. Ida Fox; Third delegate, Mrs. Mary Bond; First alternate, Mrs. Adah Walker; Second alternate, Mrs. Mary Moore; Third alternate, Mrs. Alma Miller.

DeGroat Goes to Jail: Fred DeGroat of Brookfield, who was found guilty of drunkenness yesterday morning and given an opportunity to leave town under a suspended sentence to pay $10 and costs or spend 60 days in jail, was again under three sheets to the wind when picked up by Officer Sam Brown last evening. He was taken to the hospital this morning and will serve his sentence.

G. C. Gregory of Milwaukee was a Janesville visitor today.

More Complaints of Wilkes: Frank Wilkes, the young immigrant who caused a disturbance at the Italian home on South Main street Monday evening and who was fined $10 and costs yesterday for carrying concealed weapons, has apparently not learned his lesson. Young Mr. Wilkes accosted an officer last evening and demanded "information" as to when Mrs. Hains was coming home from Deloit. She was coming in on the 7 o'clock interurban and Hains was afraid Wilkes was going to attack her. Reports also reached the department that Wilkes was hanging about the Hains home this morning. The man was arrested and again placed behind the bars this afternoon.

An Unusual Event in the Annals of Dry Goods and Carpet Selling in Janesville

ALL THROUGH DECEMBER

❖ The Big Cash Reduction Sale Will Continue ❖

READ CAREFULLY—The very liberal discount of 20 Per Cent will be deducted from all purchases made of

DRESS GOODS      FANCY SILKS
CURTAINS      BLANKETS
WINTER UNDERWEAR (Except Munsing)
MUSLIN UNDERWEAR      ❖      ❖      ❖

DO NOT CONFOUND THIS SALE with any other. Compare in your mind the Big Assortments to select from, with any other stock in Southern Wisconsin or Northern Illinois and you can better appreciate what such a chance to save money really means in dollars and cents, and the satisfaction of buying the class of goods carried by The Big Store.

Blankets

The very largest and most complete line we have ever shown. AT OUR REGULAR PRICES the values are unusual, as we buy in large quantities, direct from the mills.

During December 1-5 Off from Every Pair

75c BLANKETS.....	60c
$1.00 BLANKETS.....	80c
$1.25 BLANKETS.....	$1.00
$1.50 BLANKETS.....	$1.20
$2.00 BLANKETS.....	$1.60
$2.50 BLANKETS.....	$2.00
$3.00 BLANKETS.....	$2.40

Prices range up to $12.00 a pair; ALL AT 1-5 OFF.

FOR CHRISTMAS a nice pair of Blankets would be acceptable.

Muslin Underwear

This department is in our south store. It is a very important one. It is something that sells the year through and women have learned by experience that there is no economy in making Underwear at home. The manufacturer of Undermuslins has been brought to a great degree of perfection. One thing to be carefully considered is the quality of muslin or cambric one gets in a garment. There is much muslin underwear in the market that is dear at a low price or any price. A merchant may make a big noise about it, but it gives no satisfaction to the wearer. Leave it alone. We make a specialty of the "STANDARD" underwear for which we are sole agents in Janesville and have sold it for years. We also handle the fine La Greque tailored garments and other leading makes. Gowns, skirts, corset covers, chemises, drawers, a wide range of style and prices. We keep our stock complete at all times. It will pay one to make heavy purchases of muslin underwear at 20 per cent or one-fifth off the regular prices.

Winter Underwear

There is probably not a family in this vicinity that will not have to buy Underwear between now and spring. It is a big item with most families and a very important one. We are offering every piece of Underwear in our great stock, (except Munsing) at 20 per cent or one-fifth off the price. During our great Cash Reduction Sale you can buy

15c UNDERWEAR FOR.....	12c
20c UNDERWEAR FOR.....	16c
25c UNDERWEAR FOR.....	20c
35c UNDERWEAR FOR.....	28c
50c UNDERWEAR FOR.....	40c
60c UNDERWEAR FOR.....	48c
$1.00 UNDERWEAR FOR.....	80c
$2.00 UNDERWEAR FOR.....	$1.60

We merely mention these prices to show the savings. All other prices are in the same proportion. Hundreds of people are taking advantage of the great saving made possible. Remember, nothing but the most reliable grades of Underwear are handled by the BIG STORE. Everything desirable for women, men, misses, boys and children.

Curtains

Was ever a more favorable opportunity afforded to buy Curtains. INCLUDED are all LACE CURTAINS, PORTIERES, COUCH COVERS. You can see a stock as complete, thousands of pairs, only in cities ten to fifty times larger than Janesville. BIG TALK but we back up all statements with the merchandise.

IMPORTANT and well known by thousands of people, that we SELL GOOD CURTAINS FOR LESS MONEY, much less than any merchant anywhere, and are proving it to a constantly increasing army of customers who are well posted on the stocks of Curtains not only in Southern Wisconsin, but in Chicago and Milwaukee, and who come right here for them.

Dress Goods

The importance of this sale to dress goods buyers is becoming more apparent as the days go by, and as satisfied customers in the city and out of the city tell their neighbors about how well they fared. If you have any Dress Goods to buy, it is certainly an object to be able to buy the high class Dress Goods that we carry at a discount of 20 per cent. Think of what it means to buy our very best

50c DRESS GOODS AT.....	40c PER YARD
75c DRESS GOODS FOR.....	60c PER YARD
$1.00 DRESS GOODS FOR.....	80c PER YARD
$3.00 BROADCLOTHS FOR.....	$2.40 PER YARD

And so on right through the stock. Is it not worth considering. Here can be found Dress Goods for all occasions, and a large line of Cloakings. GREEN TAG DRESS GOODS. About 150 pieces are marked with a green tag, which means that they are being offered at very much less than 20 per cent.

Fancy Silks

With an assortment as large as you will find here now you can hardly afford to overlook the present opportunity to buy a waist or dress. The styles we show represent some of the best things from the leading silk houses of this country. Variety large enough so that one can find any particular style or color desired. Plaids, checks, dots, stripes, figures, or Persians.

On a $5.00 purchase you save $1.00.
$10.00 worth of silk costs you $8.00.

If it amounts to $15.00 one-fifth off makes the bill $12.00.

If you are interested in the silk question, now is the golden opportunity. A silk dress or waist makes a dainty Christmas gift. Every piece of fancy silk at 20 per cent or one-fifth off the price.

Suits and Winter Cloaks

25% Off

No time like the present to get a fine new Suit or Cloak. The desirable late fall of 1908 styles are here in a full line of sizes and colors. Every day we are told by women who return to buy after looking around that no assortment in town compares with ours. It is certainly a snap to walk right into a department of ready-to-wear garments showing such a great variety of beautiful styles and select a Suit or Cloak (cloth or satin) and have 25 per cent, one-fourth, taken off the price. Remember that you can find practically any desirable style you have in mind—garments that are made of the right kind of materials and the styles not too fussy. We have received many compliments on the beauty of our styles of Suits and Cloaks. Women, Misses, Children can all be pleased. The cleanest stock in Janesville—garments all made especially for The Big Store.

Simply to unload, to reduce a big stock, to make room for spring shipments which will be arriving in a few weeks is our reason for offering all of our RUGS, CARPETS, ORIENTAL RUGS, LINOLEUM, OIL CLOTH, and MATTING at 10% or ONE-TENTH RIGHT OFF THE PRICES. IF YOU HAVE ANY COLOR SCHEME in mind, just the RUG to harmonize can be found here. 5 TIMES more rugs than can be seen at any other stock hereabouts. ROOM SIZES, HEARTH, HALL RUNNERS, any size made in a wide range of qualities. Do the people of Janesville fully realize what a convenience and advantage it is to have such a tremendous, up-to-the-minute stock of FLOOR COVERINGS to select from, marked at a SAVING of SEVERAL DOLLARS over Chicago prices? Think of the capital invested in order to keep such a stock before the people. Our immense trade both in the city and out of town best attests to the way such service is appreciated. RUGS make substantial CHRISTMAS PRESENTS. $6000 worth of ORIENTAL RUGS $5.00 to $90.00.

FOREIGN CATTLE ARE BARRED FROM STATE

Governor Davidson Issues Proclamation Relative to This Matter—Foot and Mouth Disease the Cause.

Governor Davidson has issued a proclamation prohibiting the importation of cattle, swine or sheep from Michigan, New York, Pennsylvania and Maryland into Wisconsin except under such restrictions as State Veterinarian Clark may prescribe. During the last few weeks the classes of animals named have been afflicted with a peculiar foot and mouth disease which has baffled the skill of veterinarians and caused a large death loss in certain communities. The disease seems to be contagious or communicable, and the state veterinarian fears that if it is introduced into Wisconsin the stock owners will suffer large loss. The holding of the live stock show in Chicago at present gives increased cause for protection, protecting the live stock of Wisconsin from this new disease.

From Washington comes the report that Santa Claus is greatly irritated at the course pursued by Secretary Hughes in ordering that issued preventing the use of hay or straw in packing toys and other Christmas gifts for little boys and girls, for wives, sweethearts, and the men folk generally. "All the big manufacturers in New York and other Eastern cities and the agents of European toy makers from whom Santa Claus buys his holiday supplies are also up in arms against the decision.

Many large consignments of holiday lines were returned from freight depots where they were sent for shipment and their return was the first thing that the consignor knew of the quarantine against hay and straw. As it is getting rather late in the season, and Santa Claus will start on his rounds in just about three weeks, the delay occasioned by Secretary Wilson's order may be responsible for much vacant space in many a stock lot on Christmas night and many a disappointed little boy and girl, or even a disappointed big girl or boy.

The trouble comes from the fact that the Department of Agriculture has discovered that there is a contagious disease among the cattle of Maryland and Pennsylvania and elsewhere. The edict prohibits the use of hay or straw in Pennsylvania, New York, Maryland, Michigan in packing merchandise for transit between states. The New York board of trade protested against the rule and many manufacturers and others claimed that it would do them much damage, as they had large and imperative orders for toys and other goods which Santa Claus had ordered for almost immediate delivery.

COLD WEATHER TOO MUCH FOR MOTOR

Illinois Central Motor Car Freezes up and Has to Be Taken Off Run.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Monroe, Wis., Dec. 2.—The gasoline motor car, which was put back on the run between Freeport and Madison on the Illinois Central, froze up at Oak Oak, Ill., seven miles north of Freeport, Tuesday morning, and was unable to complete the trip to Madison. The cold weather proved disastrous to the car and the machinery refused to work in the cold. The steam train, which the car was to substitute, was sent out from Freeport and returned to Freeport in the evening.

An ice famine in Monroe was broken Monday night by the arrival of a carload of ice from Monticello. The local ice company ran out of its commodity last Friday and since then the ice cream parlors, restaurants, hotels and saloons were without ice until Tuesday morning, when the new supply was distributed.

Miss Belle Arnold of South Wayne and Daniel Reese of Green Bay were married at the bride's home in South Wayne Tuesday noon. The couple will make their home in Green Bay where Mr. Reese is master mechanic for the North-Western road.

Now olive drab uniforms will be received by Co. H. of this city soon after the first of the year. The new uniforms will be designed for service in cold weather, being similar to the khaki, only made of woolen material. Mrs. Perry Dwyer, aged 67 years, died at her home in this city. She came to Green county from Pennsylvania, where she was born, when a child and lived near here most of her life. The funeral was held at 10 o'clock this morning.

E. C. Gray of Whitewater, who recently purchased the Monroe Gas company's plant at bankruptcy sale, is here closing up the deal.

Fainting.

Statistics—Of the 1,001 young women who fainted last year 987 fell into the arms of men, two fell on the floor and one into a water butt.—Life.

PORTER.

Porter, Dec. 1.—Mr. C. D. McCarthy is shaking hands with friends after an absence of six months in the south.

Miss Kathryn Dooley of Madison spent Thanksgiving at home here. Our high school students were also home.

Mr. and Mrs. Orin Fossenden gave a very pleasant "chick party" to a large number of friends on Friday evening. Mrs. Cassidy won the gentlemen's prize and Mrs. R. R. Taylor the lady's. At midnight a delicious supper was served. Before departing Mr. Geo. Nichols in behalf of the guests presented Mr. and Mrs. Fossenden with a set of silver knives and forks as a reminder of their twelfth wedding anniversary.

The carpenters are finishing G. W. Nichols' new home.

A pleasant time was enjoyed by all who attended the social at Phil Riley's. The next one will be given on Friday evening of this week at C. P. McCarthy's.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Nichols were Chicago visitors recently.

Mr. Ben Peach was taken to Chicago Saturday to undergo a serious operation. Reports are that he passed safely through the operation and is on a fair way to recovery.

The Misses Gertrude and Josephine Nichols of Stoughton spent last week here.

NEW SKIN REMEDY STOPS ITCHING

Skin Troubles of Infants and Adults Quickly Cured.

When it is known that psoriasis, the new skin remedy, will stop the torturing itching attending eczema with first application and bring immediate relief and comfort to sufferers from all skin troubles, its merit will be instantly appreciated. On the tender skin of children, infants, and adults, it is applied externally, and its remarkable healing powers begin their work at once.

All skin diseases, including eczema, acne, herpes, rash, tetter, etc., yield readily to its remarkable curative properties. Occasional applications of psoriasis, in small quantities, will quickly banish pimples, hives, blackheads, blotches, and will relieve and cure itching feet, scaly scalp, humors, etc. A special 50-cent package has been adopted for those who use psoriasis for these minor troubles. This, as well as the regular two-dollar jar, is on sale at Holmstrom's, the Smith Drug Co., and other leading drug stores in Janesville.

An experimental supply of psoriasis may be obtained free of charge, by writing to the Emergency Laboratories, 32 West Twenty-fifth Street, New York City.

Physician Accused of Murder.

Mukoytown, Ill., Dec. 2.—After several months of investigation, an indictment was voted Tuesday charging murder against Dr. B. P. Brayfield, one of the most prominent members of the community and well known for two decades in southern Illinois. He is charged with poisoning Reuben P. Parrish, the Illinois Central railway agent at Mukoytown. Four days after the death of Parrish, who was attended in his illness only by Dr. Brayfield, the wife of the physician also died. Dr. Brayfield issued death certificates in each case, assigning a "natural cause," and no inquests were held.

Chapter 29

THE days in the period of time allotted the human mind in which to wonder at anything, in New York the limit is much less. No tragedy can hold the boards as long as that where the bill must be renewed three times a day to hold over the passing attention of those who themselves are eternal underlings in the continuous metropolitan performance.

As for Selwyn, a few people noticed his presence at the funeral, but even that episode was forgotten before he left the city six hours later under an invitation from Washington which admitted of no delay on the score of private business or of personal perplexity, for the summons was peremptory and his obedience so immediate that a telegram to Austin comprised and concluded the entire ceremony of his leaving.

Later he wrote a great many letters to Ellen, but not one of which he ever sent. But the formality of his silence was no mystery to her, and her response was silence as profound as the stillness in her soul. But deep into her young heart something new had been born.

In April the armored ships left the southern drill ground and began to move northward. A destroyer took Selwyn across to the great fortress inside the Virginia capes and left him there. During his stay there was almost constant firing. Later he continued northward as far as Washington, but it was not until June that he telegraphed Austin.

Government satisfied. Appropriation certain next session. Am on my way to New York.

Austin, in his house, which was now dismantled for the summer, telephoned Nina at Silverdale that he had been detained and might not be able to grace the festivities which were to consist of a neighborhood dinner to the younger set in honor of Mrs. Gertrude. But he said nothing about Selwyn, and Nina did not suspect that her brother's arrival in New York had anything to do with Austin's detention. As Selwyn came late to the front steps Austin, awaiting him feverishly, hastened to smother the florid "hello" which over his features and walked into the room, his hand extended, large, bantering voice undisturbed by the tremor of a "welcome" which filled his heart and came near filling his eyes.

"So you've stuck the poor old government at last, have you? Took 'em all in—forts, fleet and the marine establishment."

"Sure thing," said Selwyn, laughing in the crushing grasp of the big fist. "How are you, Austin? Everybody's in the country, I suppose," glancing around at the linen-shrouded furniture. "How is Nina? And the kids? Good business? And Ellen?"

"She's all right," said Austin. "Glad she's really a superb specimen this summer. Where's your luggage? Oh, is it all here? Enough, I mean, for us to catch a train for Silverdale this afternoon?"

"Has Nina any room for me?" asked Selwyn.

"Room! Certainly! I didn't tell her you were coming, because if you hadn't the kids would have been horribly disappointed. She and Ellen are giving a shindy for Gladys—that's Gerald's new acquisition, you know. So if you don't mind 'bathing into' a baby show and the younger bunch from Littlewood House and Brookside. What a you say, Phil?"

Selwyn said that he would go, but before consenting, a curious feeling of age and grayness had suddenly come over him, a hint of fatigue, of consciousness that much of life lay behind him.

So Austin went to the telephone and called up his house at Silverdale, saying that he'd be down that evening with a guest.

Nina got the message just as she had arranged her table, but woman is born to sorrow and distress to all the unlooked for disclosures of men.

"Dear," she said to Ellen, the tears of uxorial vexation drying unshed in her pretty eyes. "Austin has thought it to seize upon this moment to bring a man down to dinner. So if you are dressed would you kindly see that the tables are rearranged and then telephone somebody to fill in—two girls, you know? The oldest Craig girl might do for one. Beg her mother to let her come."

"Whom is Austin bringing?" Ellen asked.

"He didn't say. Can't you think of a second girl to get? Isn't it vexing? Of course there's nobody left—nobody ever fills in in the country. Do you know, I'll be driven into letting Drina sit up with me—for sheer lack of material. I suppose the little imp will have a fit if I suggest it, and probably perish of indignation tomorrow."

Ellen laughed. "Oh, Nina, do let Drina come this once! It can't hurt her."

And so it happened that, among the jolly throng which clustered around the little candle lighted tables in the dining room at Silverdale, Drina, in company, early half just above the nape of her white neck and cheeks like pink fire, sat between Nina and a vacant chair reserved for her tardy father.

For Nina had waited as long as she dared. Then Drina had been summoned to take in Drina and the youthful Craig girl, and as there were to have been six at a table, at that particular table sat Nina decorously facing Ellen, with the two children on either hand and two empty chairs flanking Ellen.

At dinner Drina and the younger Craig maiden also appeared to be bent upon self destruction, and Nina's eyes opened wider and wider in sheer amazement at the capacity of woman in embryo for rations sufficient to maintain a small garrison.

"There'll be a couple of reports," he said to himself, with a shudder, "like Selwyn's chaotic, and then there'll be no more Drina and Daisy. Hello! He broke off, astonished. "Well, upon my word of honor, 'Thill Selwyn, or I'm a broke!"

"Phil!" exclaimed Nina. "Oh, Austin, and you never told me!"

"Train was late, as usual," observed Austin. "Phil and I don't mean to butt into this very grand function—Hello, Gerald! Hello, Gladys! Where's our obscure corner below the table, Nina? Oh, over there!"

Selwyn had already caught sight of the table destined for him. A deeper crease across his bronzed face as he stepped forward, and his firm hand closed over the slim hand offered.

For a moment neither spoke. She could not. He dared not.

Then Drina caught his hands, and Ellen's loosened in his clasp and fell away.

For a moment neither spoke. away as the child said distinctly: "I'll kiss you after dinner. It can't be done here, can it, Ellen?"

Selwyn, beside Ellen, had ventured on the formalities, his voice unsteady and not yet his own.

Her loveliness had been a memory. He had supposed he realized it to himself, but the superb fresh beauty of the girl amazed him. There was a strange new radiance, a living brightness, to her that seemed almost unreal. Exquisitely untried her voice, too, and the slightly bent head, crowned with the splendor of her hair, and the slowly raised eyes, two deep blue molasses tinged with the hues of paradise.

"Are you remaining to smoke?" asked Ellen as Selwyn took her to the doorway after dinner. "Because if you are not I'll wait for you."

"On the lawn out there—farther out in the starlight," he whispered, his voice broke, "my darling!"

She bent her head, passing slowly before him, turned, looked back, her answer in her eyes, her lips, in every limb, every line and contour of her, as she stood a moment looking back.

Austin and Boots were talking volubly when he returned to the tables now veiled in a fine haze of aromatic smoke. Gerald stuck close to him, happy, excited, shy by turns. Others came up on every side—youthful, frank, confident fellows, nice in bearing, of good speech and manner.

And outside waited their pretty partners of the younger set, gossiping in hall, on stairs and veranda in garulous voices, all flung with faces and bright eyed expectancy.

The long windows were open to the veranda. Selwyn, with his arm through Gerald's, walked to the railing and looked out across the fragrant starlit waste. And very far away they heard the sea intoning the hymn of the four winds.

Then the elder man withdrew his arm and stood apart for awhile. A little later he descended to the lawn, crossed it and walked straight out into the waste.

The song of the sea was rising now. In the strange little forest below, deep among the trees, plain light broke out. Road the Want Ads.

NEW HEDGE-TRIMMER BASKET FOR CLOTHES

Machine Cuts Many Branches at Once and Cuts Them Straight.

Hedge-trimming has been made easy by the ingenuity of an Oregon man, who has devised a machine that will cut as many branches as a dozen men working by hand at once without any difficulty. The machine consists of a large number of teeth set in a row and all operated by the same shaft, which is turned by a handle. Their effect is that of so many pairs of shears working in the same line.

The knives with his left hand, with his right hand he turns the crank that opens and closes them. Naturally, this machine has much more power than there is in a man's hands, and it comes through the branches of all sizes. At the same time, cutting a wide swath, as it does, it can be guided so that the work is done in much better style than is possible when a single pair of shears is used.

TWO CHAIRS IN ONE

A rocker in One Position and Stationary When Inverted.

From the ingenuity and variety of contrivances, contraptions and mechanical devices of all sorts that are on the market, the designers would seem to have reached the end of their rope. There comes a California, however, with an invention which seems to be the latest and greatest of the lot. This is a combination rocker and stationary chair, and all that is needed to transform it from one to the other is to turn it upside down, or, right side up, whichever way you like to regard it. The chair is shaped like a piece of mission furniture, and the rockers, which are short, serve as curved arms when it is stationary. They are protected when down by a metallic sheath, which also figures as an ornament when there are in use. The back is so shaped that it slides up and down in a groove and can be adjusted in whichever position is required. Without the chair is a sturdy and attractive piece of furniture, and is likely to be popular on the market.

CANNOT FIND DROWNED CHIEF.

Biggy's Body Probably Carried to Sea from Frisco Day.

San Francisco, Dec. 2.—Although numerous boats have patrolled and searched the bay since daylight Tuesday morning, from the Golden Gate to Hunter's point, and the officers of the ferryboats and other craft were asked to keep a sharp lookout, the body of Chief of Police William J. Biggy, who disappeared from the police launch patrol and is believed to have fallen overboard shortly before 12 o'clock Monday night, while returning to this city from Belvidere, on the north shore, has not been recovered. It is feared that the body has been carried out to sea.

The police commissioners met at six o'clock Tuesday morning with Mayor Taylor, and after an executive session appointed A. D. Cutler, president of the commission, acting chief of police, pending the appointment of a permanent head of the department.

Hundred Miners Escape.

Central City, Ky., Dec. 2.—One hundred miners in the coal mine of the Central Coal & Iron Company, near this city, escaped from the workings, which had been filled by smoke as a result of an armature blowing off of a dynamo running a pump shortly before five o'clock Tuesday evening. The miners, frightened by the smoke, hurried to the ground through an airshaft, much to the joy of the assembled crowd of anxious wives and mothers, who had gathered at the mouth of the mine soon after word of the accident had gained currency.

Kills Self on Wife's Grave.

New York, Dec. 2.—Depressed by an apparently uncontrollable melancholia which had haunted him since the suicide of his wife on an ill-fated day, Friday, November 13 last, Dr. Randolph P. Hays, a Lexington avenue dentist, Tuesday ended his life by swallowing poison. He was kneeling on the grave of his wife in Woodlawn cemetery as he drank the fatal potion.

Train Kills Two Men.

Freemont, Neb., Dec. 2.—Joseph Wright of Lincoln, Neb., and his uncle, Gilbert Wright, of this city were struck by the engine of a Union Pacific passenger train Tuesday. Joseph Wright was instantly killed and his companion fatally injured.

Kills Brother While Hunting.

Mason City, Ia., Dec. 2.—While out hunting rabbits, Will Hough, aged 18 years, shot and killed his brother Guy, aged 25 years. They had separated, and Will fired at a running rabbit and the bullet struck Guy in the throat.

Amusement Park Burning.

Meadville, Pa., Dec. 2.—Fire which broke out at Exposition park, Connetquot lake, at one o'clock Wednesday morning, threatened to destroy the entire resort. A telephone message from the park said the Dismark hotel was burned.
